

English 101
Professor Lewis

Oral Presentation

Instructions: Each presentation will last for 5-7 minutes. You may use sound and movie clips, but they may be no longer than 1 minute.

Present your research paper to the class. Essentially, you will be “performing” your paper for the class, explaining your argument and showing how your research backs it up. Do not read your paper straight through. Use very specific parts from it and modify your arguments for a verbal medium.

Here are the criteria I am grading on:

- A good structure with an introduction, body, and closing
- Explaining your argument clearly and effectively
- Keeping your audience engaged
- Sticking to the time limit provided
- Good eye contact
- Good projection and energy
- Good body language

Bring an outline of your oral presentation with you to hand in on the day you present. It should present a clear structure of how your presentation will progress.